Local environment:

Gródek is located in the North – East part of Poland, in the eastern part of the district of Białystok. By the municipality runs the road E-65, connecting Białystok and Minsk through the border crossing at Bobrownikach. The municipality of Gródek has around 5800 inhabitants. The unique ecological placement is the fact that the whole area of the municipality is located in a Polish Green Lungs and the western part of the municipality is located within the Knyszyn Forest Landscape Park. Clean air and water, the abundance of different species of plants, birds and animals is unique in Europe, which creates excellent conditions for the development of tourism and recreation.

The village has convenient public transport with Białystok. There is the Cultural Center, the music festival called Basowiszczka (festival for independent Belarussian Rock-music) takes place annually. There are various folk festivals. There is a bay called “Zarzeczaný” and the sports centre. There is an indoor swimming pool 9 kilometres far from Gródek. The only drawback of the region is quite high unemployment faced by locals and the absence of perspectives for young people. One problem is also absence of space for youth, where they can spend their free time.
