

EVS in Peniche

Location

The City of Peniche is situated on the west coast of Portugal with nice beaches and at 90km from the capital, Lisbon. The economy is based on the fishing and tourism. It's close to "Óbidos" a medieval village and there is a natural reserve, Berlengas that is an island. The city of Peniche has around 15000 inhabitants; it's a calm and touristic place.

There are connections to the others cities by bus. We have a museum, a library, and during the summer there are some activities outside - concerts, theatre shows...

Economically the city lives from the fish and the services that are connected with this area.

Climate

Peniche has its own microclimate! In the summer it is never too hot, around 23°-27°. 10 minutes further inside in the country you have 10°-15° higher temperatures. Usually there is also a lot of wind in Peniche. The coldest months are December and January with around 3°-5° in the night. You should be aware of that Portuguese houses are not properly prepared for winter, so no central heating. But most houses have electrical heaters and lots of warm blankets.

Food

These are some typical meals:
"Amigo de Peniche" (sweet)

Bacalhau (fish)

Caldo Verde (soup)

Carne de porco Alentejana (porc meat)

Castanhas (Chestnuts)

Caracois (snails)
