

LAURA DANES Z HISZPANII

During the project I have learned to live with people with different cultures and customs that has led me to become a more tolerant and more able to overcome the problems of both communication as convivial person.

I have improved my English first, and I have learned a new language, I also learned to be patient and organize my own projects as I gave the flexibility to choose when and how I wanted to do my job.

I would recommend EVS to others, because it is an experience you will never forget and you will learn to fend for yourself in unknown and you will learn from the best possible place, so do it!

Through this project I have met the European countries in a direct way and it gave me knowledge about the youth people.

In the future I would like to organize in my country volunteer's project in college and studying to be a teacher because this project has made me aware of my qualities to teach.

Thanks to living in a new country and meet volunteers from different countries I have learned about my culture and I shared it with them while we shared that differs views on custom and cultural differences.
